WEDDING INVITATIONS

Once you have chosen the style of your wedding, select a design to complement it. Send your invitations at least three months in advance. Give guests travelling from abroad as much notice as possible. Remember that you don't need an invitation for each guest but do send them to members of the wedding party as a special keepsake.

EVENING INVITATIONS

Evening Invitations are personalised with your evening reception details. Send them out at least three months before the wedding for those guests not attending the wedding ceremony itself.

PLACE CARDS

Seat your guests quickly and with as little fuss as possible.

ORDER OF SERVICE / THE DAY

Detailed programmes of the days events and service or civil ceremony. You should order enough for each guest. Place your order once you have finalised the arrangements, usually two months before the wedding.

THANK YOU CARDS

Don't forget to write a list as you open all of your presents! An essential way of expressing gratitude to your friends and relatives.

RSVP CARDS

Send a reply card with each invitation, making it easier for your guests to respond. They have a standard personalised message and also come with a reply envelope which is printed with your name and address. Many designs have reply cards included however not all reply cards come with envelopes.
